O'NEIL IS HERE. BOY GETS THE RANCH.

Famous Actor Rehearses New Play at Grand.

Appears in Count of Monte Cristo This Evening.

VOICE OF THE MIGHTY

New Play Is Based on Biblical Story.

Will Play Monte Cristo Only Three Weeks Longer.

James O'Neill, one of the veteran actors of the old school, is here today with his company of players, who will appear tonight at the new Grand opera house in "Monte Cristo."

In three weeks Mr. O'Neill will discontinue to use this play. He announces positively that this will be the last time he will ever appear in the place. Absolutely the last. He has given thousands of performances of the part, and he is so well known in the piece that his name has become almost indelibly linked in the minds of theatergoers with that of the play.

Three weeks from tonight at St. Paul he will appear in his new play, "The Voice of the Mighty," a Biblical story in which Mr. O'Neill will appear in the role of John the Baptist.

A rehearsal of the new piece was had at the Grand theater this afternoon. Rehearsals have been under way for a time and the piece will have its first presentation at St. Paul. Special scenery has been built for it in the east and has been shipped to St. Paul.

"The Voice of the Mighty" is by James Slavie, a young California man, a graduate of Santa Clara college. It is one of his first attempts as a playwright, but it is said to be one of the strongest pieces Mr. O'Neill has ever had, and much is promised for it.

"Monte Cristo" which will be given tonight is produced with special scenery, hand-drawn and painted, and will be a splendid attraction.

The company came to Topeka from Kansas City, where they appeared last week at the Wilbur theater. The Kansas City Star says:

"It is doubtful if Mr. O'Neill ever was stronger or more convincing in any of his many characterizations than he has been as the Abbe in Monte Cristo. Leaving out all consideration of the part, it was after all, Mr. O'Neill's portrayal of the Abbe that attracted to him highest commendation. It always has been carefully done; he has shown the same regard year after year for detail and he has consistently refused to fall into the school of ranters in the presentation of such plays as Mr. O'Neill has given the public. He has today the same restraint, the same control that he had in the days of his youth and he is exactly as powerful with added richness of tone."

Mr. O'Neill's support is excellent and the play is as carefully staged as ever. James O'Neill, Jr., as Albert De Morvort was satisfactory in every way. An unusually fine piece of character work was done by Mr. Bart Wallace. Miss Teresa Dale as Mercedes was thoroughly capable.

White Sox Fielder Let Out and Cole Holds the Fart.

Morris County Fight Comes Up in Supreme Court.

After having been in progress since 1903, the fight between Thomas Jensen and his son Tom Jensen, now 23 years old, over the possession of a large tract in Morris county, near White City, has reached the supreme court of the state. O. L. Moore, district judge for that section of the state, decided June last that the title to the ranch property belonged to the son. Papers in the father's appeal from this decision were filed with the clerk of the supreme court today.

This dispute between father and son is a little out of the ordinary, as the funds with which this ranch was purchased came from the sale of property in White City, which was sold to the father, William Bragg, who at the time of his death owned considerable property in England.

Under the terms of his will a valuable portion of this property was left to Mrs. Jensen and the will provided that the property should be sold and the proceeds divided among the children. Mrs. Jensen died in 1882 and was survived by but one child, Tom, who in 1889 married and his wife died in 1890. Mrs. Jensen took the boy to England and prevailed upon the executors of the estate to sell a portion of the property. This property was sold to the father, William Bragg, who at the time of his death owned considerable property in England.

On their arrival home the ranch in Morris county was purchased for $1,500 was invested in a hotel at White City. Through an agreement between the father and son the ranch was practically turned over to the father. The son brought suit for recovery of title to the ranch and also for a lien on the hotel property for the amount put in it by Mr. Jensen. On his grounds that his father had not fulfilled the conditions he made with the executors of the grandfather's estate when the Hare and Hound Inn was sold, he contended that at the time he entered into the agreement with his father about the ranch he did not know of the terms of his grandfather's will, and that his father had but a life interest in the property.

G. W. Hurd was appointed as a referee to take the testimony in the case. He has been in the case since the case was brought to court. Judge Moore decided that the agreement between the father and son absolutely extinguished the right of the son in the property and that the agreement was invalid and he issued an order awarding the son the immediate and exclusive possession of the real estate. It is from this order that Mr. Jensen has appealed to the supreme court.

Among other things in his defense of the suit brought by his son was the allegation that the action was not commenced until more than two years had elapsed after the purchase of the ranch and the other transactions and the suit was not valid under the statute of limitations.

KINDERGARTEN OPENS.

Tuesday to Be Devoted to Enrollment of Tots at Holmes Hall.

The kindergarten at Bethany, which has been so popular a department of the school for several years, will open again Tuesday with increased attendance and every facility for interesting work this year. Miss Clara V. C. Handy will again have charge, and her first assistant will be Miss Alice Barker. The wagonette will be sent for the children this year as usual, but it will not go out the first morning, as the route cannot be prepared until parents have registered the children. Hours are from 9 to 12 each morning, and the first morning, Tuesday, will be devoted to registration. The kindergarten occupies a large room on the ground floor of Holmes hall.

IT MAKES $2,000

This Year's Race Meet a Winner Financially.

Pay Off the Heritage of Last Year's Debts.

IT WAS A CLEAN SHOW

Gamblers and Jointists Took an Enforced Vacation.

Weather Conditions Interfered With Record Race Time.

With the deciding of three races on Saturday afternoon, none of which were particularly exciting, the five days' race meeting at the fair grounds under the auspices of the Kansas State Exposition company was brought to a close. From the standpoint of the racing it was the most successful meeting in many respects that has ever been held in this state. Many of the best horses in the west and southwest appeared in their respective classes and furnished some exceptional racing though no unusual time was made, but this was due in the main to adverse wind conditions. From a financial standpoint the meeting was more successful than any similar one, or fair, which has been held on the grounds for a number of years. It is likely that the association will clear about two thousand dollars on the meeting and this will be applied to the payment of the debts contracted by the association in running the fair last year. There were some debts of the association for a number of years ago and the total amount of these debts before the meeting just closed was started was about $2,000. It may be that in the final accounting the amount cleared this year will be sufficient to pay off all of the debts, but the present indications are that the profits will not be enough to clear the debts.

There was one particular in which the meeting will stand out prominently over the meetings and fairs of the past years, and that is in its orderly conduct and the absolute freedom of the grounds from objectionable features of every sort. The exposition company was reorganized after the fair of last season and R. T. Kreipe was chosen as secretary in the place of Charles H. Moore, who served for several years. A variety of sources that the "boozie element" in the city had finally secured control of the exposition company and that the fair was to be a carnival of crime, where joints might flourish openly and gambling games of all sorts were to be allowed.

At the time these criticisms were made Mr. Kreipe had no comment to make and his silence was interpreted in some quarters as being a confirmation of the criticisms. Even the jointists and the gamblers got ideas in their heads that they were to be permitted to do as they pleased on the grounds and the police and the city fathers were surprised that they, when the preliminaries for the meeting were being arranged a few months ago by Mr. Kreipe. When the same time to go to the grounds and stand on the grounds Mr. Kreipe laid down a law which he stuck to and which he had enforced to the letter. He merely asked the gamblers to get out of his place and he secured the same result. He told them that if they attempted to sell liquor of any kind, even hop tea, they would not only lose their concessions but they would be arrested and charged with violating the state prohibitory law. And Mr. Kreipe said that his instructions in these particulars would be enforced rigidly by the strong arm of the law and he secured the same result. He told them that if they attempted to sell liquor of any kind, even hop tea, they would not only lose their concessions but they would be arrested and charged with violating the state prohibitory law.

Mr. Kreipe had all sorts of offers for concessions from men running pin, spindles and other sorts of games, from which he could have secured a tidy sum, but he turned them all down. A crowd of gamblers and jointists followed the horses from one meeting to the other and arrived in Topeka expecting to ply their trade as usual, but their visit was completely frustrated. The prohibition for them for they had no chance to open up.

The day before the meeting started one of these men approached Mr. Kreipe for a concession, saying he ran an innocent little game where it was possible to win all kinds of cigars. Mr. Kreipe told him that nothing of the sort would be permitted on the grounds. "Well, what the kind of a business are you going to run here this week?" asked the man. "We're going to run a race meeting and it is going to be free from objectionable features," replied Mr. Kreipe, and that is just the sort of a meeting which was held.

During the course of the meeting twenty-one races were decided, four in the harness classes and seven running races. For six of the harness races $1,000 stakes were hung up and for eight of them $500 purses. With the exception of the Derby, which was for a purse of $500 the other running races were for purses of $100 each. In all $11,100 was distributed in stakes and purses. Only one race which was started, the two-year-old pace for a stake of $200, was not run, but one of the entries for it showing up on the grounds.

Except in the running races no unusual time was made. On Wednesday the track was a trifle heavy and on the other days of the week when the fast classes were out, although the track and Chicago reported receipts of 88 cars, included an unusual time being made. The fastest mile made by the trotters was made by Mack Henry, who went two heats in the 1:11 trot in 2:16. The fastest pacing was done by Sunny Slope and Judge Lease in the 2:10 pace, each of them winning a heat in 2:14. In the half mile dash for runners the distance was negotiated in 50 seconds flat, equalling the track record, and Clear Knight, winner of the sectional Derby, broke the track record for a mile plugging the mark at 1:44, a quarter of a second better than the record.

The closing on Saturday, the closing day of the meeting, did not furnish much sport. Only three races were decided. Eddie Woods won the 2:18 under the auspices of the fair grounds, taking the first and second heats. Alie N. won the 2:17 trot as he pleased in straight heats, and Bates won the running race, three-heaters, in a rather surprising drive with Sir Gallant in the stretch. The two-year-old pacing race was on the programme for Saturday, but only one horse was ready to start so the race was postponed.

Provision Market Dull and a Shade Lower.

Stock Market Opened With a Spurt in Reading.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—WHEAT—Wheat was firm and slightly higher at the immediate opening today because of rains in the northwest and southwest and firm cables. Commission houses were good buyers, but with a short time after the opening prices eased off a shade on selling by pit traders, who were influenced by the weakness in the stock market. December wheat opened at 84½¢ higher, at 73½¢, and sold to 74½¢. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 88 cars, included an unusual time being made.
